Planting and Cultural Directions

For best performance and longest life roses require the best available soil, plenty of water, sunshine, and regular feeding. Bare root plants should be put in the ground as soon as possible after purchase. It is very important that the roots are not allowed to dry nor the plants exposed to wind or sun before planting.

If not already done, prune the stems back to a foot in length. When trimming side branches, cut directly above the second or third bud on that branch with a sharp pair of shears. Cut away all dead wood and soft and spindly stems. Pruning concentrates the available energy of a plant in a fewer buds resulting in sturdier stems, better flowers, and a better balanced bush; conversely, results of not pruning are short, weak stems, smaller flowers, and a top-heavy bush.

The soil should be prepared for a depth of at least two feet, and manure, ground compost, or moist granulated peat moss worked into the soil to provide the necessary humus, and to keep the ground loose and able to hold the moisture more effectively. Prepare a hole large enough to admit the roots without crowding them in any way. It is permissible to cut long roots to a foot in length, but no shorter. As a rule the plants should be two feet apart, more or less, depending on the size and vigor of the bushes.

The bud union should be at ground level. Deep planting will deter growth. Tamp the ground firmly after planting so that the roots will make firm contact with the soil and no air pockets remain. Water the ground deeply and cultivate to provide aeration when sufficiently dry.

In regard to fertilizers, a good balanced commercial mixture is recommended. Use commercial fertilizers sparingly, and never directly to the roots. Small applications worked into the top of the ground at recommended intervals will give best results and will avoid the danger of overfeeding and consequent burning of the plants.

Roses require plenty of sunshine. Do not plant in a too shady location.

Watering should be done as frequently as climatic conditions require. Overwatering is just as harmful as insufficient water. Do not keep the ground soggy. Keep the soil loose and pliable and do not irrigate until the moisture content of the soil is sufficiently low.

In regard to rose diseases and insects, do not wait until your plants are attacked. Prevention is by far the better method of control. Regular weekly dusting throughout the growing season with bordeaux mixture, Massey dust, or other similar insecticides will effectively prevent most leaf diseases and chewing insects.

Consult your nurseryman on your rose problems. He knows roses and will be able to give you helpful suggestions.

SOW BARR'S GRASS SEED

Early for Better Lawns

Barr's Lawn Seed Mixtures have been designed primarily for the purpose of providing a lawn mantle that is at once permanent and quick starting. They are guaranteed to be entirely free of Fall or Crab Grass seed. Recleaning by modern machinery makes Barr's Lawn Mixtures noted for having under one-half of one per cent of non-noxious weed seeds. Freedom from chaff makes these mixtures go twice as far in seeding. They test especially high in germination, too. This provides a thick stand from the beginning which is essential to assist in holding weeds in check.

The earlier you can sow grass seed in the spring the better. One pound of grass seed will sow 150 square feet of lawn. After seeding keep the ground continually moist until the grass appears. After grass has started, water heavily at intervals during dry periods.

BARR'S "Sunnyside" Lawn Seed Mixture

This is a combination of the most desirable permanent grasses; dwarf, close-growing, fine-leaved, good color, lasting qualities. As the chief ingredient of a good lawn is superfine Kentucky Blue Grass there is a large proportion of this ideal grass in this mixture. No Timothy nor Rye nor coarse-bladed annual grasses are used to cheapen this mixture. It will germinate quickly and provide a neat, permanent lawn. Besides the Kentucky Blue Grass the other varieties included are fine-leaved perennial grasses and some Chewing's Fescue, a higher-priced grass that holds weeds in check much better than other varieties.

Lb. 55c; 5 lbs. $2.65; 10 lbs. $5.00; 15 lbs. $7.25; 25 lbs. $11.75; 100 lbs. $45.00; prepaid.

BARR'S "Green Mantle" Lawn Seed Mixture

This is a splendid mixture of good grasses for average conditions of soil and sunshine. It has a large proportion of Kentucky Blue Grass (approximately 45 per cent) and other grasses for a good quick effect. Compare this with analysis on other brands, and you will see what a great value you are receiving in Barr's "Green Mantle" Lawn Seed Mixture.

Will give the lawn an enduring velvety, deep green mantle, with freedom from weeds, as it is very free from weed seeds.

Lb. 35c; 5 lbs. $1.50; 10 lbs. $2.90; 15 lbs. $4.25; 25 lbs. $7.00; 100 lbs. $27.00; prepaid.

BARR'S "Shady Side" Lawn Seed Mixture

Composed of shade-loving permanent varieties of fine-leaved grasses—no Timothy nor Ryegrass. Included are fine-leaved perennial grasses and varieties of grasses, including Poa trivialis, which have proved best adapted for situations of a difficult nature due to shade.

Feed lawns under trees heavily three times a year—spring, early summer and fall. Failure under trees is due more to competition of tree roots than shade, and plenty of feed gives both grass and trees a chance to exist.

Lb. 60c; 5 lbs. $2.85; 10 lbs. $5.50; 15 lbs. $8.00; 25 lbs. $13.00; 100 lbs. $50.00; prepaid.
